struction is 80 percent licked" is the question that is most often asked. The reply of the minister Howe's statement that "reconstruction is that the Canadian steel industry is producing at top capacity lumber is in increasingly better supply, although some types required in housing are still short and practically full employment is well distributed across the country.

Another statement of the minister's which is being hotly debated by those who claim that all construction except housing should be discontinued: "Housing and industrial construction must be kept roughly parallel" because the purchase (or rental) of houses depended on the purchasers having jobs.

Political Discussions Rage

With the opening of parliament we have had more definite political statements, particularly over the radio, which brings into focus the clear distinctions between our three main political parties. The Progressive Conservative party continues to point to the "socialism" of the government while Mr. Coldwell of the CCF still maintains that there is little difference between the Liberals and Tories. Last week Rt. Hon. J. G. Gardiner aroused much interest when he criticized both the Conservatives and CCF policies and directed some of his fire at the "conservative press." He challenged both parties to name one social service that had not been provided for directly or through proposals to the provincial governments. He also challenged any opposition party to name a social service that should be discontinued.

Canada, World Power

The importance of external affairs to our economy, and Canada's position as a world power was dramatically highlighted in the "speech from the throne" when parliament opened last week. Considerably more than half of the entire address referred to our interest in the peace treaties with Italy, Finland, Roumania, Hungary and Bulgaria, our activities in the United Nations and our part in international action for the relief of the destitute. Reference was made to Canada's "Constructive attitude" with regard to peace treaties for Germany and Austria and much more will be heard of this before the session is over. The promise of better old age pensions is welcomed on all sides.

Political Parties

Perhaps it is the numerous and "top level" political rallies held here that keeps discussion and argument going in the Capital. Last week it was the CCF party with pronouncements on old age pensions and the purity of the Party. Next week it is the annual meeting of the "advisory council" of the National Liberal Federation. Late in March a national meeting of the Pro Cons will be held.

Previous meetings of the Liberal "advisory council" had noticeable effects on government policy and this year's meeting will be watched closely. The young Liberals of Ottawa provide the banquet and dance.

Standing on your pride does not raise you high enough to see far.

UNCLE HY SAYS

February, month of lesser days, we're glad you're here in many ways, our fuel is low, our back is bent, our lungs are full of dust content, yes, February, we're glad you're here at last, and that the winter's going fast.

February, month of lesser days, you are a pal we'd have you know for there are much more pleasant things than going out to shovel snow, so please be kind, don't get too rough, we have surely had it hard enough.

February, month of lesser days, and lesser nights, we do not forget, don't be too hard on hockey rinks, don't make the surface soft and wet, the semi-finals soon begin, we have a team we think will win.

AID TO CHINA

Can you imagine a hospital without a mattress or a pillow?

That is one of the reports made concerning a 60-bed hospital at Lunchi, China, to the Canadian Aid to China Fund. It is because of such reports and the needs they uncover that the Canadian Aid to China Fund is now appealing for $2,500,000 to cover a vital program of 1947 relief and rehabilitation in China.

At the particular hospital mentioned above, they have 30 sheets, and must reserve them for post operative cases. They are almost completely out of enamelware, even in their operating room. In bombings they lost most of their glassware. The operating room has only an old wooden table, and no proper lighting fixtures, only a lamp. Their supply of instruments is small and the instruments they have are in poor condition. They need cans for surgical dressing; bottles for storing catgut and such things; textbooks for the nurses; X-ray equipment and rubber gloves.

Multiply this hospital's wants by hundreds and you have some idea of the task facing the Canadian Aid to China Fund in its efforts to re-equip Chinese hospitals. With sickness and malnutrition rampant in China, hospitals are a primary requirement in the re-building of a war ravaged land.

The Canadian Aid to China Fund knows that Canadians will appreciate the desperate peacetime plight of a gallant wartime ally, and give generously.

Elmore Philpott, prominent newspaperman and columnist with a Vancouver newspaper, is widely known as a radio commentator through his many CBC broadcasts. Mr. Philpott was heard commenting on international highlights during the "Midweek Review" program on Wednesday.

CALGARY ALBERTA

In view of Canada's needs for houses, for factories and for other business places that mean homes and jobs for our people there was great interest here in news from Britain that the success of the Labor government's housing program depended on how much assistance they could get from Canada.

There has been much stock-taking among the politically minded in Ottawa since the Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe's recent statement on the progress that has been made in reconversion and "reconstruction." Mr. Howe's statement that Canada has done better than any other country in providing homes, over 100,000 in 1945 and 1946, is discussed a great deal in view of statements that have been made pointing to Britain's "plans."

MAIL BOX EDUCATION

Somebody has come out with a new expression "Mailbox Education" in place of the old term "correspondence education," to describe how we teach about ten percent of Alberta's children. That seems to be a very healthy sign. The term "Correspondence education" had something pompous and phony about it, as if you could make something out of nothing if you gave it a big enough name.

Actually, each of these 15,671 mailbox students we read about gets a letter once a week from his teacher up in Edmonton. Once a week, that's all. Just think how helpful, encouraging and inspiring a teacher can be to a child she sees all day for five days a week; and then think how little of that influence she can exert by writing to him once a week. He doesn't even know what she looks like.

Away with this mailbox education! Let's find out how to get good teachers. Let's find enough money to keep them when we have got them. And any honest citizen understands that there is enough money in Alberta to educate our children properly. Between 1935 and 1945 the circulation of Canadian coin increased from a total of 33 million to a total of 75 million; during the same period average daily note circulation rose from 169 million to 951 million. Bank clearings show similar prosperities. We have the money. It is the duty of the people and the government of Alberta to see that education does not starve for want of money.

PRICE JUMP IS ALLOWED ON NEW STOCK ONLY

To avoid any misunderstanding of the recent Prices Board order allowing an increase at the manufacturers' level of 11 percent for men's and children's shoes and nine percent on women's shoes, the Board has issued a clarifying statement on the Order.

The Board has reminded retailers and wholesalers that their maximum prices are governed by the markup provisions of A2000, which restricts prices on their present inventories to their actual laid down cost plus their lawful February 28, 1946 markup. The increased manufacturers' prices can, accordingly, be reflected at wholesale and retail only on purchases from manufacturers made on or after January 20.

RESPECT THE WHITE CANE

In all our relationships with blind persons, let us be thoughtful. No one likes to have an unnecessary fuss made over him in public. Let us remember this when we assist blind people, by foreseeing what should be done and by doing it without commotion. Here are some ways to show our respect for the White Cane by putting a blind person at his ease.

When you are introduced to a blind person, shake hands. A handshake is as good as a smile.

When you meet a man who is blind, or enter a room where one is present, introduce yourself. Don't leave him to wonder who is there.

There is no need to avoid such words as "blind" and "see" in conversation; most blind people are not oversensitive about their handicap, it is not an affliction.

When dining with a blind person, prepare the food for easy eating, butter the bread, shake the salt and pepper, pour out the beverage, tell him what food he is being offered and indicate where the dishes are.

Converse with a blind person as you would with anyone else. They listen to the radio, go to the movies, read books, and some of them know more than you about what goes on in the world.

Remember that though a man is blind, he is still an individual. He is not a replica of every other blind man and his interests are varied.

Always address a blind person directly when you ask a question. There is no need to use a third person as interpreter.

CANCER DRESSING SERVICE

The Cancer Dressing Service, recently inaugurated by the Alberta Branch of the Canadian Cancer Society, has been given wholehearted approval by the minister of health, Dr. W. W. Cross.

In a letter to Mrs. N. S. Symons, R.N., director of the Cancer Dressing Service, Dr. Cross stated: "The officials of my department, who are responsible for Cancer Treatment and diagnostic service, agree that your undertaking will serve a good purpose and should be greatly appreciated by all cancer sufferers. I take pleasure in wishing you and all those interested in this undertaking, the very best of success."

Dressings are provided, free of charge, to patients in homes or private nursing homes, wherever located in the Province of Alberta. Applications for dressings may be made either directly to the Cancer Dressing Service, 513 8th Ave. W., Calgary, or to your local Cancer Council.

Since the inception of the service a number of urgent cases, both city and rural, have made application and in all the cases suitable supplies have been provided.

Producing Registered Seed

Many farmers, it seems, noting the premium charged for registered seed have come to the conclusion that this premium was easy money, and so many have been purchasing registered seed not to improve their own crops but to sell as registered seed. They have sown and harvested their crops under ordinary field conditions, have done no extra work on their fields, and sometimes sent the harvested seed to a central plant for cleaning and sale.

Registered seed was never intended to be grown in this way. It was intended to be produced by a man who would start in a small way first, and would give it his own personal and most particular daily attention; that he would, for instance never grow seed on contract for anyone else, and that he would clean and sack the seed on his own farm with his own equipment. Disappointment is bound to follow an other method, for either the farmer's field will not pass inspection, or if it does pass, usually at minimum standards, then the next buyer of the seed will probably be greatly disappointed.

Those who wish to enter the registered seed business should try their hand the first year on a maximum of 10 acres, then feel their way, and learn the business gradually by actually doing it.

Freedom will live if we live selflessly for the community -- not if we live selfishly for ourselves.

People speak of "the middle way." Any half-way way of life can only be half-dead.

B. OF M. BUSINESS REPORT

Prairie Provinces

Business during December was maintained at a high level and the volume of both wholesale and retail trade showed moderate gains over December 1945. Sales volume for the year just closed showed a good increase in comparison with 1945. Household furniture and draperies continue in strong demand with volume ahead of a year ago. Hardware dealers report brisk business but shortages in many lines continue. Active enquiry for power farm machinery automobiles and trucks continues, but only token deliveries are reaching dealers. A scarcity of cement and other essentials, combined with severe weather, has hampered building programs. The demand for wearing apparel remains strong, particularly men's and children's wear, although supplies appear more plentiful. Grocery sales show an increase and many staple lines are in better supply. Coal mines in Alberta and Saskatchewan are working full time.

CARBON, ALTA.

Flour mills are operating at near capacity. Packing plants are well employed and production continues at a good level. Deliveries of wheat to country elevators in the prairie province since the beginning of the crop year amounted to 238,513,000 bushels compared with 179,118, 000 bushels for the same period last year. Cattle deliveries to stockyards were light, due largely to the holiday season and bad roads; demand was active and prices advanced for most classes.

This coming year will fix the shape of many years to come.
